

Government Performance Accountability: New Media opinions and a brief review of Policy Implementation in Indonesia regarding the COVID-19 pandemic in the last two years.

- Author(s): Achmad Supandi ,Soesilo Zauhar ,Endah Setyowati ,Hermawan
- Abstract: This study focuses on the Analysis of Implementation of Government Performance Accountability (GPA) System policy implementation during the COVID-19 pandemic in Indonesia dealing with the COVID-19 pandemic, for example regarding the implementation of policies that have been carried out based on government opinions and solutions in Indonesia. This research was conducted by observing by collecting articles from well-known media and some previous studies were then concluded to be given a review so that the recommendations given could be implemented as an increase in government performance accountability in a country as a policy solution for handling COVID-19 in Indonesia. Based on result that Policy implementation of GPA in Indonesia dealing with the covid-19 it's good enough even though there are still criticisms and conflicts in handling this, this is a gap for optimizing the improvement of handling covid-19 in Indonesia. What is interesting in this study is how the government's policy in handling Covid-19 is seen from the accountability side. The results of this analysis are expected to be lessons and recommendations can be replicated in other parts of the world with tropical climates such as Indonesia.
- Keywords: Government Performance Accountability, recommendations, collecting articles