

Syntactic-Semantic Comparison of Common Person Sentence with Non-Personal and Indefinite Person Sentences.

- Author(s): Abbasov Adalat Mahammadali
- Abstract: The predicate of general finite sentences is expressed mainly by the second person singular and the third person singular in the Azerbaijani language. The first, second and third persons forming the predicate of general finite sentences can't be concerned to a concrete person.
- Keyword: predicate, finite sentences, Azerbaijani, third persons forming, concrete person,